Shown in Applications For Admission to New College.

Greater confidence in the Greater confidence in the proposed Connecticut College for Women has been manifested by no one more than hy the young women who have applied for certificates of admission, upon its opening, one year hence. At present, the college is not. It has yet to erect buildings, to secure equipment to arrange a curriculum, and, incidentally, secure a faculty. It is without standing in his college world. And yet these young women, who have before them but one college life have deliberately chosen the Connecticut college as their prospective alma mater, not only before it is mother to anything, but before it is able to walk alone. Are they making a mistake? Let's see.

At the water edge of Nazareth that day was heard a voice that set up a new claim in the lives of those men. It is evident from what we know of their lives that they put the claim of the supreme truth that blazes from Calvarys cross.

To this question we can answer that has a claim on your life because of divine authority, because he is the father and the creator revealing him-self to us. He has a claim on your life also because of the service that he has rendered you. No one has gone so far for you, no one who has given you gifts had made such gifts as he has, no one had such plans or is preparing such things for you as he is. In return for such service he should crowned with our respect, regard claim on your life because of the service to which he can lead uou. It is the highest and noblest service conceivable, and the one who can lead you into the highest and noblest service is the one who has first claim on your life. If that is so, can you not say, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

The list more than the mere record of an event; it is the revelation of a habit. This habit of seclusion and supplication was as sure an element of Jesus' life as that of going about doing good. They are probably related as cause and effect. Activity is always pretaced by receptivity. Christ never appeared to be harrassed or hurried. The majesty of his mission gave him momentum. Great things are never finished with the closing of the coffin lid. Those who would do great things are never for meditation both in public and in private worship. The silent prayer is the most important part of the service. Entertainment is not all there is to public worship. The silent prayer is the most important part of the service. Entertainment is not all there is opinited worship is to make us responsive to the spirit of God, to make us reflate our relations to Him, to make us think For we can minister wisely only when we meditate well. People are more apt to stop thinking to talk than they are to stop thinkings to talk than they are to stop an hour." When Christ talked with the Samaritan woman at the Patri-archs' well, he sald. Not in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, shall min worship. The limited horizon line of Samaria was lifted to include the whole world. Damaging Fire at A. L. Chartie's Number of Parties Left for Summer Resorts-Interest Noticed in Baseball Team-Personals.

About 5.30 Saturday evening the people in the vicinity of the grocery store of A. L. Chartier were considerably frightened when what looked to be a very dangerous fire broke out in the back room of Mr. Chartier's store. Mrs. Lamoruex, living up stairs over the store, discovered the fire and gave an immediate alarm. She smelled smoke and at first did not pay much attention to it, as a bonfire had been burning in the extreme rear of the yard during the afternoon, and thought the bonfire was smoldering; then all of a sudden the smoke poured into her apartments in torrents. Going down the stairs leading from her upstairs apartments, the cause of all the smoke was quickly discovered. The whole back room of the store was in a mass of flames. Mrs. Lamoruex called for help and men near by lent able assistance. Hose from the Ponemah mill was secured and attached to the hydrant directly across from the store, and by the time the men were ready to play water on the fire the fire was savagely burning the room, shooting through the doors, windows and very nearly ignited the second story, but was checked by the volunteer firemen. After a hot fight of nearly an hour the fire was put out and greatly relieved the nearby residents of that section. The store is situated in the basement of a two-story building and the upper

The store is situated in the basement of a two-story building and the upper stories are occupied. It was quite difficult to estimate the insurance, but the linsurance companies are coming to adjust the matters today. One of the noticeable features of the work done by the fire fighters was that they were able to kee- the fire away from a big kerosene oil tank which if ignited the whole building would undoubtedly have been consumed. The excitement was so great that Mrs. Chartier and Miss Chartler fainted.

A party of people left here Sunday morning in an autotruck for Rocky Point. There were about 50 or 40 in the party and it was engineered by Arthur Letendre and William Picker. Arthur Letendre and William Picker.
